THE UNIVERSITY THANKS ITS FRIENDS FOR THEIR SUPPORT

The University owes much of its stature to private gifts. Research studies by the academic staff and graduate assistants are made possible, in large measure, by such grants. Special teaching projects are supported or assisted by bequests. Many scholarships, prizes and bursaries have been provided by individual benefactors, alumni, firms, foundations and associations. Some of the major buildings on the campus, as well as a wide variety of other projects, serve as lasting testimony to the work of those who helped build U.B.C.

The basic support of the University is provided by student fees and by grants from the Province of British Columbia and the Government of Canada. The excellence of the education it offers, however, depends to a great extent on added support received from friends. Private benefactors, during the past year, donated $4,724,583.

A record of these gifts and of the special grants made by Governments has been mailed to the donors and to a number of individuals and organizations concerned with support for higher education. Should you wish to receive a copy of this brochure please write or call the Resources Council as shown at the foot of the page.

The brochure shows a fascinating variety of thoughtful and meaningful gifts: plaster casts and rubber moulds of dinosaur tracks and of a turtle; $25 for a U.B.C. Fund to assist the University of Rajasthan (India); Puerto Rican insects (from a donor in the U.S.A.); $15,000 for a children's laboratory, psychiatry (proceeds of A.M.S. 1966 Mardi Gras); forty-nine $10 gifts for research in surgery; diamond crystals (from South Africa). Alumni across the world make their contributions, many annually. Gifts have been made anonymously, directly, in memory of relatives, in honour of friends and by bequest in wills. (This list does not include the detail of the magnificent support received from donors of the Three Universities Capital Fund.)

With twelve faculties, seven schools and four institutes, the needs of the University are many and varied. Support is welcome in every area of teaching, research and student aid. However, as the needs and priorities of the University change we welcome early opportunities to discuss with donors the form their support might take. No gift is too small—and none too large—to be of value.

THE UNIVERSITY THANKS ITS FRIENDS FOR THEIR SUPPORT

The University owes much of its stature to private gifts. Research studies by the academic staff and graduate assistants are made possible, in large measure, by such grants. Special teaching projects are supported or assisted by bequests. Many scholarships, prizes and bursaries have been provided by individual benefactors, alumni, firms, foundations and associations. Some of the major buildings on the campus, as well as a wide variety of other projects, serve as lasting testimony to the work of those who helped build U.B.C.

The basic support of the University is provided by student fees and by grants from the Province of British Columbia and the Government of Canada. The excellence of the education it offers, however, depends to a great extent on added support received from friends. Private benefactors, during the past year, donated $4,724,583.

A record of these gifts and of the special grants made by Governments has been mailed to the donors and to a number of individuals and organizations concerned with support for higher education. Should you wish to receive a copy of this brochure please write or call the Resources Council as shown at the foot of the page.

The brochure shows a fascinating variety of thoughtful and meaningful gifts: plaster casts and rubber moulds of dinosaur tracks and of a turtle; $25 for a U.B.C. Fund to assist the University of Rajasthan (India); Puerto Rican insects (from a donor in the U.S.A.); $15,000 for a children's laboratory, psychiatry (proceeds of A.M.S. 1966 Mardi Gras); forty-nine $10 gifts for research in surgery; diamond crystals (from South Africa). Alumni across the world make their contributions, many annually. Gifts have been made anonymously, directly, in memory of relatives, in honour of friends and by bequest in wills. (This list does not include the detail of the magnificent support received from donors to the Three Universities Capital Fund.)

With twelve faculties, seven schools and four institutes, the needs of the University are many and varied. Support is welcome in every area of teaching, research and student aid. However, as the needs and priorities of the University change we welcome early opportunities to discuss with donors the form their support might take. No gift is too small—and none too large—to be of value.

THE UNIVERSITY THANKS ITS FRIENDS FOR THEIR SUPPORT

The University owes much of its stature to private gifts. Research studies by the academic staff and graduate assistants are made possible, in large measure, by such grants. Special teaching projects are supported or assisted by bequests. Many scholarships, prizes and bursaries have been provided by individual benefactors, alumni, firms, foundations and associations. Some of the major buildings on the campus, as well as a wide variety of other projects, serve as lasting testimony to the work of those who helped build U.B.C.

The basic support of the University is provided by student fees and by grants from the Province of British Columbia and the Government of Canada. The excellence of the education it offers, however, depends to a great extent on added support received from friends. Private benefactors, during the past year, donated $4,724,583.

A record of these gifts and of the special grants made by Governments has been mailed to the donors and to a number of individuals and organizations concerned with support for higher education. Should you wish to receive a copy of this brochure please write or call the Resources Council as shown at the foot of the page.

The brochure shows a fascinating variety of thoughtful and meaningful gifts: plaster casts and rubber moulds of dinosaur tracks and of a turtle; $25 for a U.B.C. Fund to assist the University of Rajasthan (India); Puerto Rican insects (from a donor in the U.S.A.); $15,000 for a children's laboratory, psychiatry (proceeds of A.M.S. 1966 Mardi Gras); forty-nine $10 gifts for research in surgery; diamond crystals (from South Africa). Alumni across the world make their contributions, many annually. Gifts have been made anonymously, directly, in memory of relatives, in honour of friends and by bequest in wills. (This list does not include the detail of the magnificent support received from donors to the Three Universities Capital Fund.)

With twelve faculties, seven schools and four institutes, the needs of the University are many and varied. Support is welcome in every area of teaching, research and student aid. However, as the needs and priorities of the University change we welcome early opportunities to discuss with donors the form their support might take. No gift is too small—and none too large—to be of value.
