A General Reception will follow each
Ceremony at the Flag Pole Plaza.

Graduand,

Your journey here began in your mind.
You alone forged your path to this day.

We are honoured to have given you a place to learn,
discover and be inspired along the way.

Remember as you journey forward, we will always be that place for you.

Tuum Est.

A journey you have helped shape that will forever remain imprinted with your dedication and spirit.

1908

Provincial legislature passes a new "University Act" establishing The University of British Columbia.

1919

First Graduating class tree planting ceremony. Over time, 92 more trees would be planted on the Vancouver campus by graduating classes at UBC.

1925

UBC Point Grey campus opens.

1916

First Graduating class pictured here at the Fairview campus located near Vancouver General Hospital.

1922

1,200 UBC students march through the streets of downtown Vancouver to the Point Grey campus. This pilgrimage became known as the "Great Trek," which represents one of the greatest efforts of an undergraduate student body in support of its university and still reflects the spirit and pride of UBC students.

(background image, pages 2-3)

1940-1951

Students contribute to the construction of Brock Hall, the university's first student union building. Student initiative leads to construction of War Memorial Gymnasium, as a memorial to the British Columbians who died serving their country. Enrolment swells to 9,374.

1970–1979

Enrolment numbers reach 20,936 students. UBC awards its 100,000th degree.

2005

UBC opens UBC Okanagan campus in Kelowna.

2008

UBC celebrates the Centenary of the Signing of the University Act.

1990

UBC celebrates the 75th anniversary of its opening with a series of special events, including the largest Open House in its history.

2007

UBC awards its 200,000th degree.

2013

2,780 students become the Graduating class of Fall 2013.

Congratulations Graduating class of 2013!

The University Mace is a symbol of the authority of the Chancellor. It is displayed on ceremonial occasions, most notably during the congregation ceremonies but also during the Installation of a President or Chancellor.

THE UNIVERSITY MACE

In the fall of 1957, the University commissioned Haida carver Bill Reid to undertake the project. Owing to Reid's heavy workload, he suggested that George Norris be asked to help design and carve the Mace. The planning of the Mace took some time and a final design was not approved until 1959.

Norris carved the Mace from a block of yew and it included a stylized thunderbird on the thick upper portion. The Mace also featured the use of copper that was prominent in Northwest Coast native art. This copper trimming was designed and prepared by Bill Reid. Norris completed the Mace in 1959 and it was first used at the Fall Congregation where the Director of Ceremonies, Malcolm McGregor, carried it for the first time.

Today the Mace is carried by the 'Macebearer' who leads the Platform Party, which includes the Chancellor, the President, and other dignitaries, onto the stage for the Congregation ceremonies.

THE PROCESSION

Chancellor Sarah Morgan-Silvester shakes the hand of every student that crosses the stage—that's over 8,000 students each year. This handshake signifies the transition between student and graduate.

REGALIA COLOURS

The hoods, gowns and hats worn by graduates are lined with colours to indicate the degree to be conferred, a tradition dating back to the Middle Ages when the first universities were founded.

YOUR LEGACY GROWS

Since 1919, the graduating class has held a Tree Planting Ceremony on Campus to serve as a reminder of the class in years to come. Many of the trees along East Mall were planted by a graduating class.

As triumphant as the day is for you and your families, it is not the end of a journey, but a mere viewpoint on the side of a road, a celebratory juncture within a lifelong continuum of learning and activity.

Graduation ceremonies are by far the most joyful occasions at UBC. I am truly honoured to take part in your celebration and to congratulate you on your achievements. It is my sincere hope that your academic experience has been both enjoyable and fulfilling, and that your transformation from UBC student to UBC graduate will instill confidence and enthusiasm for what lies ahead. I also hope that you do not view your graduation day as one upon which your relationship with your university comes to an end. On the contrary, graduation should not mean goodbye—farewell yes, but never goodbye.

As triumphant as the day is for you and your families, it is not the end of a journey, but a mere viewpoint on the side of a road, a celebratory juncture within a lifelong continuum of learning and activity. What you began on Imagine Day as members of a UBC student community will continue, albeit in a far less arduous manner, as members of a highly interconnected UBC alumni community. All that remains to be seen is how active you plan to be as members of that community.

Irrespective of where you live or how opportunity and circumstance define your future, I encourage you to take advantage of every opportunity to remain connected to your university and to other UBC alumni, who invariably can be found in almost every corner of the world.

Although the challenges of student life may have you anxious to move on to the next adventurous stretch on the road, you may be pleasantly surprised to discover how the commonality of your experiences as graduates of one of the world's great centres of learning and research will draw you together in the decades ahead, and back to this lovely campus.

To that end, I am pleased to tell you that UBC has engaged a great many of its graduates to begin construction of a long-awaited Alumni Centre. Located in the heart of the campus adjacent to the new Student Union Building, the Alumni Centre will represent a compelling symbol of UBC's commitment to strengthening our alumni community, and to fostering new forms of connectivity between current and former students.

In the meantime, my very best wishes to you and those who supported you along the way, and welcome to the community—we hope to see you often!

— SARAH MORGAN-SILVESTER

The game begins on a sand dune in the middle of what appears to be an endless desert. In the distance, a forbidding mountain looms, its peak split by a glowing crevice.

Wordlessly, heeding a call from deep within, your character moves toward the mountain, discovering remnants of lost civilizations along the way, coming upon benevolent guides, and traveling for a time with strangers who offer help and accept yours in return. Once safely at the base of the mountain, you and your companions begin to climb, fighting cold, deep snow, and high winds on your ascent. At one point, you sink to the ground, too weary to carry on. Death seems imminent. Then, as if by magic, an assemblage of guides appears and they fill you with pure life force energy. Renewed, you continue to the summit and walk fearlessly into the crevice. A shooting star arcs overhead, announcing your success to watchers below. Slowly, you descend, the star's trajectory marking your path, and as you make your way back to your tribe, prepared to share the inner strengths you've found in overcoming every obstacle, you pass other robed travelers on their way to the mountain's base. Home, you offer your gifts to anyone in need, until that irresistible call sounds and you set out once again.

Journey. An independent video game created by Thatgamecompany for Sony and released last year. Over three years in development and responsible for driving the developer nearly to bankruptcy. And then...the fastest selling PlayStation game ever in both North America and Europe. Critically and commercially successful worldwide. Winner of 23 international awards and nominated for 10 more, including the 2013 Grammy for Best Score Soundtrack for Visual Media.

Why?

Because they got it right. We recognize the metaphor of the journey as the story of our lives. The developers deliberately followed world mythologist Joseph Campbell's theory of narrative—known as the Hero's journey—in creating the story arc, and it's a pattern Campbell claimed is embedded in the collective unconscious of all of humanity. The game's profound appeal may even lie in the fact that they got it more right than we've managed as a species so far: Players can help each other, but not hinder another's progress. Connections are formed not through words or battles but by exploring the world in partnership. According to designer Jenova Chen, going beyond the "typical defeat/kill/win mentality" of most video games was Journey's foundational intention.

For the past number of years, you have played the character of Student. You have met many other travelers along the way, some of whom have become Friends, all of whom have altered the course of your Journey. With the help of your Guides, you have learned to turn your innate intelligence toward the beginnings of wisdom; your enormous energy toward discipline; your intellectual skills toward an independence of thought; your curiosity toward a deep respect for diversity; and your individuality toward the possibilities of interdependence.

You have come to embody the university's mission: learn/discover/contribute—a clear echo of the Hero's journey—and it is this mentality you carry out into the world today as Graduate.

When enough of you do so, it changes the Game.

— STEPHEN J. TOOPE

On behalf of the Musqueam Indian Band, the Musqueam Band Council welcomes the University of British Columbia's new graduates, their families and friends to the 2013 Annual Fall Congregation.

We are pleased to honour the graduates and extend our congratulations to each and every one of you. We are especially pleased to extend our welcome and congratulations to the increasing number of First Nations students who visit the university, and our traditional lands, for their education.

The accomplishments and contributions of each individual student build the foundation for their future as well as the future of the university and the larger community. These individual accomplishments reflect the talent and diversity among you. Today, the feeling of pride and accomplishment to accompany the completion of your course of study will add to each student's confidence in moving on to the next endeavour.

The University of British Columbia is situated within the heart of Musqueam Traditional Territory. These lands have always been a place for learning. In previous centuries, what is now the UBC campus was a centre for learning for Musqueam youth, who were instructed in culture, history, and tradition, and who in turn shared their knowledge with a new generation. Belief, knowledge, ritual, technological practices, were all handed down here from generation to generation —just as they are today to students from diverse communities and backgrounds.

Musqueam thanks the University of British Columbia and President Stephen Toope for continuing to recognize these lands and the tradition of learning associated with them as an integral part of the history and well being of the Musqueam community. We also thank UBC for continuing to seek a partnership with Musqueam as co-host for special initiatives and ceremonies.

We are pleased that our lands continue to be a place for learning and sharing. We are supportive of the university's many programs and initiatives to form partnerships with the Musqueam and other First Nations communities. Education brings us all together, and each of the students graduating today is an inspiration to us all. It is our hope that after graduation you will continue contributing to the university, to our communities, to the well being of society and in doing so you will bring about positive change.

Congratulations to all University of British Columbia 2013 Graduates. We wish you further success for your future.

THE PRESIDENT'S STOLE

The Salish people are well known for being beautiful weavers along the west coast. Their weavings were used for clothing, sitting mats, and gifts. It also indicates wealth; the more blankets and gifts you gave away shows everyone your wealth.

I decided to design and weave the stole for the sole purpose in sharing the importance and wealth of the Salish people here at Musqueam. It's now a gift for the President and the students at UBC to share with each other. I hope it also relays the significance of sharing amongst each other.

The white sheep wool shows the weaving techniques still used today and the black material shows the Salish form lines.

My name is Chrystal Sparrow and I come from the Musqueam Band. I'm a contemporary Salish artist. My art mediums are; wood carvings, prints, jewellery, clothing and weavings.

UBC's 21-member Board of Governors comprises the chancellor, the president, eleven persons appointed by the lieutenant-governor, three faculty members elected by faculty, three full-time students elected by students and two people elected by and from the full-time employees of the university who are not faculty members.

By legislation, the board is responsible for the management, administration and control of the property, revenue, business and affairs of the university including the appointment of senior officials and faculty on the recommendation of the president. The governors represent diverse backgrounds, which provide valuable input during board deliberations.

O CANADA

O Canada
Our home and native land!
True patriot love all thy sons command.
With glowing hearts we see thee rise,
The True North strong and free!
From far and wide,
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.
God keep our land glorious and free!
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.

ALUMNI WELCOME

"The journey of a thousand miles starts from beneath your feet."

—Lao Tzu

As you walk across the stage today, you are continuing a journey that began when you first came to UBC. As you take those few short steps you are joining a worldwide community of over 290,000 UBC alumni who have come before you and a network of which you are now a part.

alumni UBC is a member-driven association that helps alumni stay connected to each other and to UBC, and supports their professional and personal journey. Our vision is to build a mutually beneficial relationship with UBC based on a shared ambition for a better world and an exceptional university.

I invite you to make the most of your alumni colleagues and start enjoying the benefits of membership as you continue your journey through life:

- Network with your wider alumni UBC community across the world on LinkedIn, Facebook and Twitter.
- Read Trek magazine and Trek Online and stay connected with UBC and each other.
- Use your alumni UBC A-Card for continuing access to UBC's libraries as well as many other discounted services on and off campus.
- Attend year-round programs such as The Next Step for new alumni or UBC Dialogues to keep abreast of key issues facing our world and can also be accessed online.

As part of UBC's start an evolution campaign of involvement and investment, the University and the UBC Alumni Association 'alumni UBC' have joined forces to build a new home for alumni for life at the heart of the Vancouver campus opening in 2015—the Centennial year of UBC's first class. To learn more about how you can start an evolution with UBC, please go to alumni.ubc.ca.

Tuum est—it's yours!
