NOVEMBER 25-27

THE CHAN CENTRE FOR THE PERFORMING ARTS

TUUM EST

Dear Graduand,

Your graduation began long before this day.

It began when you made the choice to study that extra hour, dedicate yourself more deeply, and strive to reach for the degree you had chosen to fully commit your life to pursuing.

Many of the people that helped you arrive here today are seated beside you—friends, family, classmates—while others are thinking of you from afar.

We are honoured to have given you a place to discover, inspire others and be challenged beyond what you thought was possible.

We hope you know, we will always be that place for you.

Yours,

UBC

The UBC graduation journey has been forged by the spirit of the university's motto, Tuum Est, (meaning 'it is yours') since 1915. Today, you, the graduating class of 2015, now shape UBC's history by making it your own.

1916

One of the first graduating classes was the Arts Class of 1916 pictured here at a party at the home of Mary Wilons. In UBC's first year, there were only three faculties: Arts, Applied Science and Agriculture with 379 registered students and 34 faculty members.

1920s

The twenties saw the student-led Great Trek to claim UBC's Point Grey campus and establish the university as a place of mind for students the world over. The AMS incorporated as a non-profit society and the university began awarding its first graduate degrees to students. In the Ubysey, published in September 23, 1925, students described the new campus with a sense of wonder: "We are dazed with the appearance of architectural cleanliness and bewildered by our lineal freedom."

1940s

The forties were an era of tremendous change at the university as both students and faculty embraced the war effort. In 1943, new President Norman Mackenzie began in earnest to expand the university and new departments were formed along with new buildings to house them including Brock Hall, the first student union building. By the 1950's, UBC had established itself as a comprehensive university and top choice for students in BC and beyond.

1960s

Student numbers continued to escalate alongside the scholarly activities that began to define UBC as a leader in research. The campus was alive with sixties counterculture and a sixth president of UBC was elected by the name of Dr. Walter Gage. New student residences were created to respond to the expanding student body as well as a new student union building. Students gain influence at the university and are elected to the University Board of Governors for the first time.

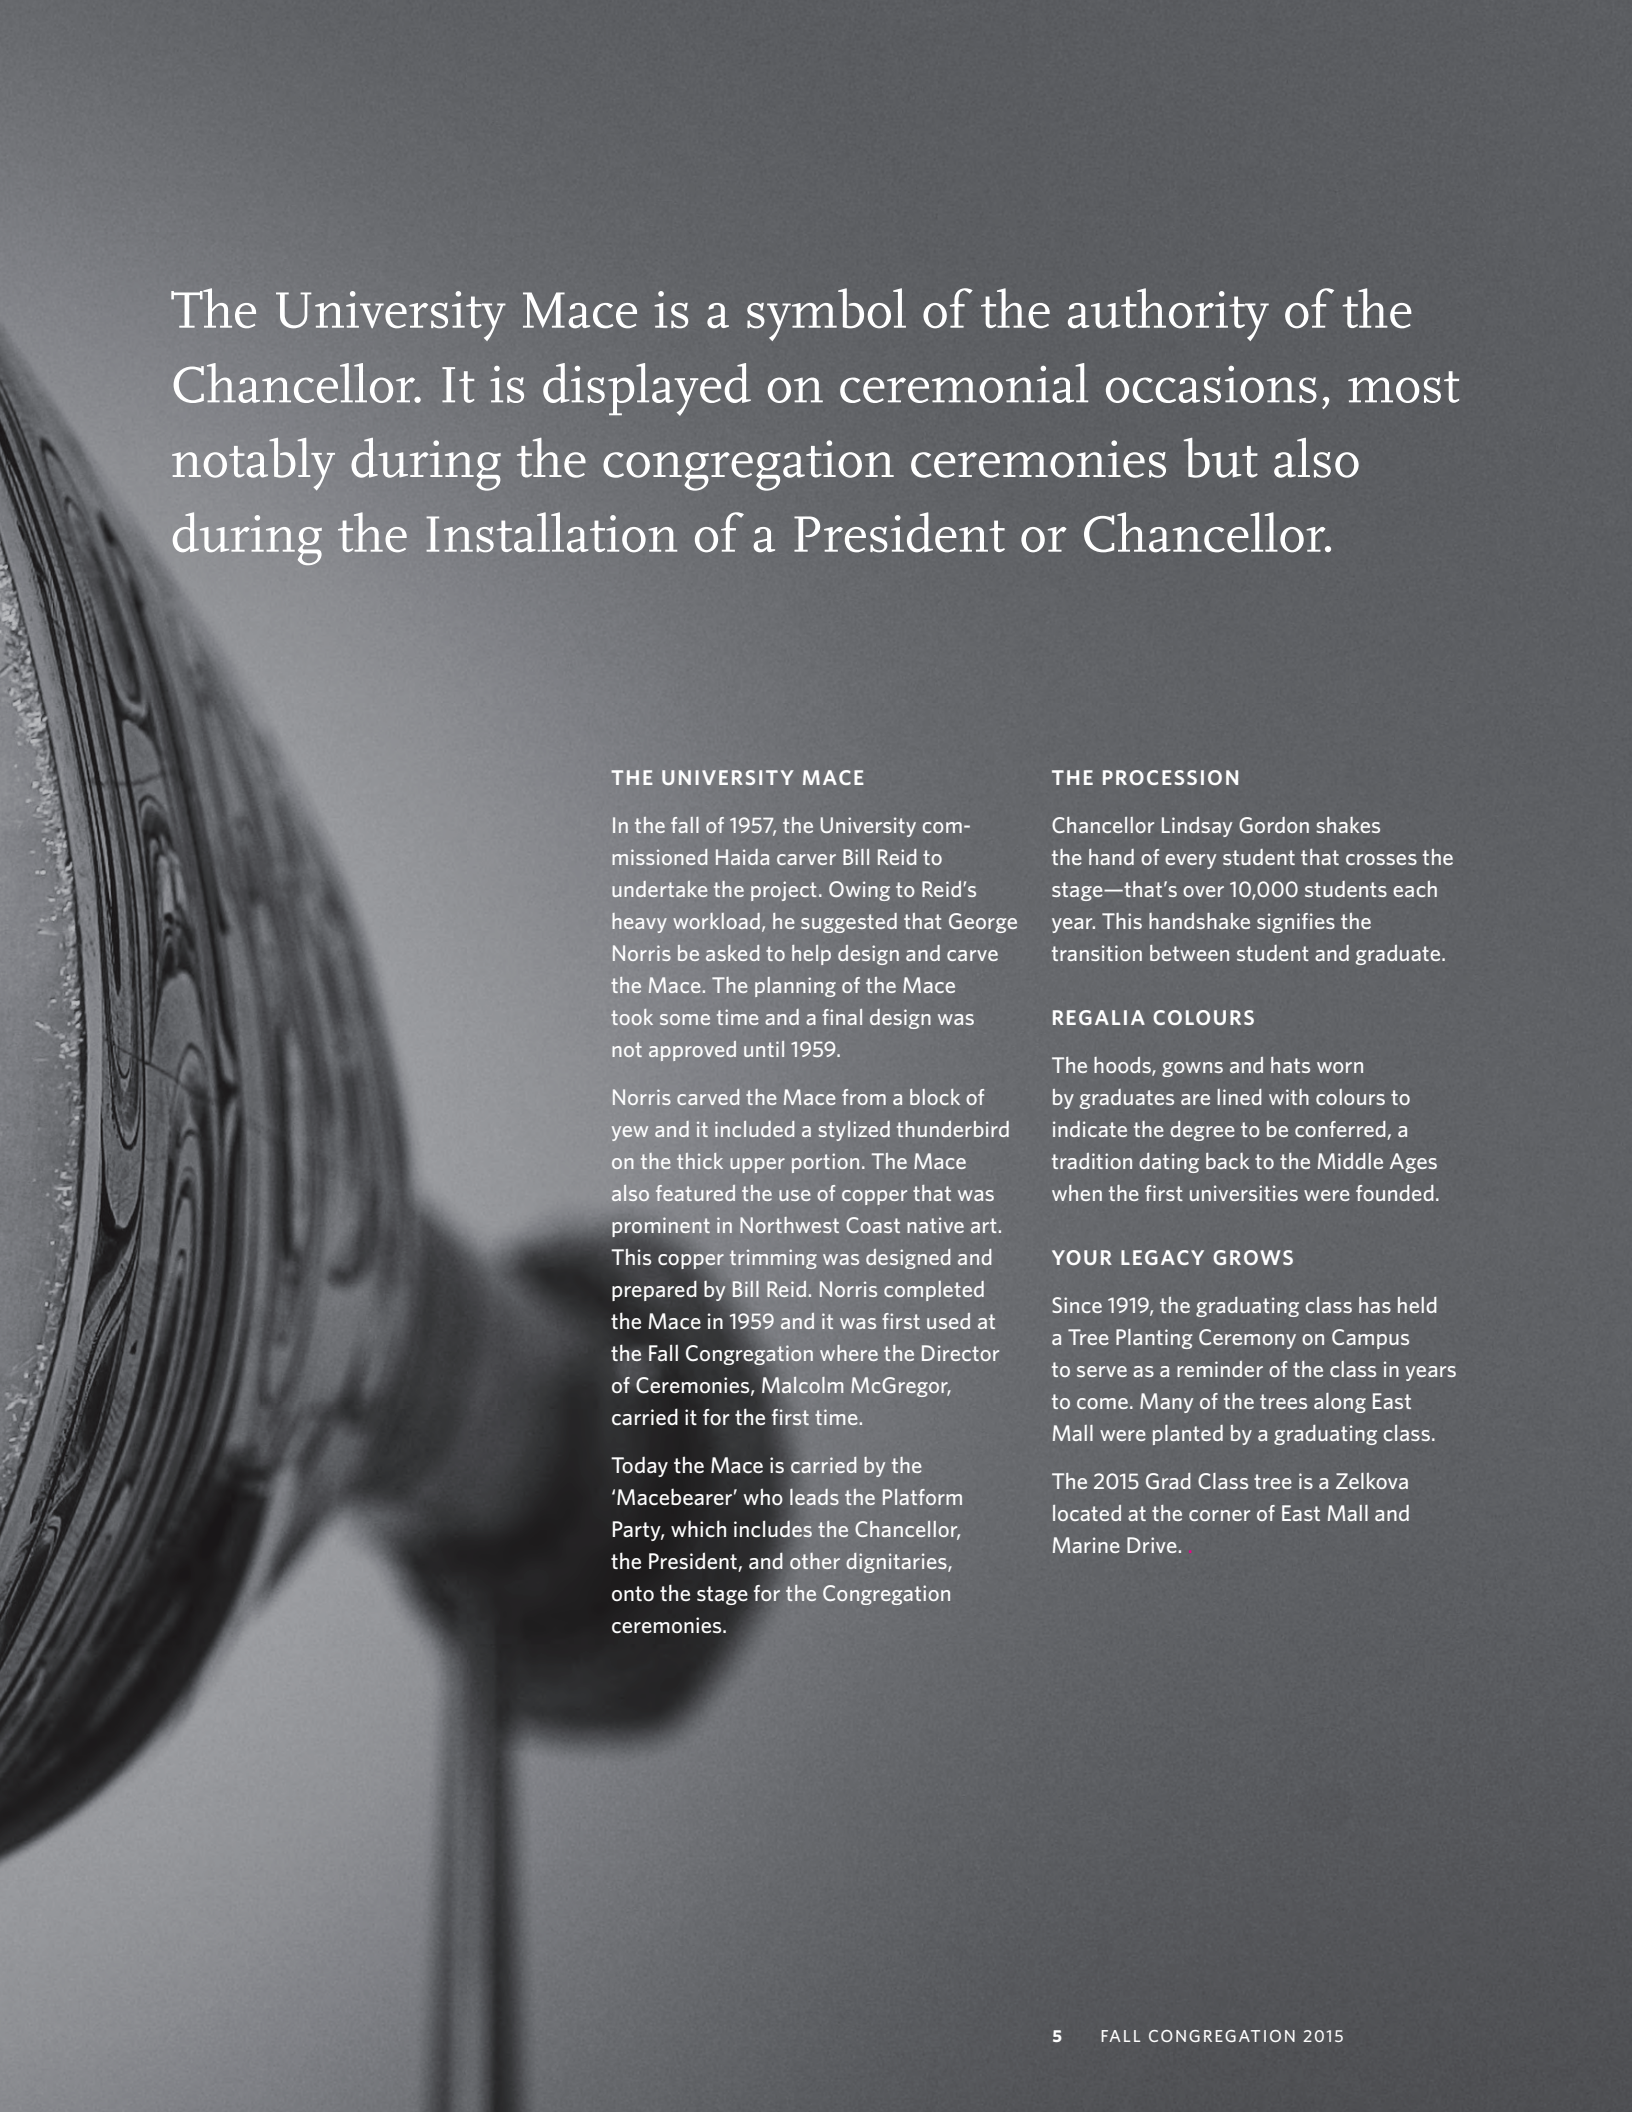

1980s

With over 34,000 students registered at the beginning of the eighties, UBC began attracting scholars from all over the world. Engineering students were in the news frequently for their pranks, which included the famous Ladner Clock Tower stunt in which students pulled off hoisting a white Volkswagen Bug onto the top of the tower. Dr. Martha Piper was elected President in 1997 and ushered in an era of international engagement that saw UBC step onto the world stage as an educator and global centre for research excellence.

Close to 13,000 students will become the Class of 2015. They will go on to join the over 300,000 alumni who have successfully graduated from UBC and continue their journey as treasured members of the UBC community.

The University Mace is a symbol of the authority of the Chancellor. It is displayed on ceremonial occasions, most notably during the congregation ceremonies but also during the Installation of a President or Chancellor.

THE UNIVERSITY MACE

In the fall of 1957, the University commissioned Haida carver Bill Reid to undertake the project. Owing to Reid's heavy workload, he suggested that George Norris be asked to help design and carve the Mace. The planning of the Mace took some time and a final design was not approved until 1959.

Norris carved the Mace from a block of yew and it included a stylized thunderbird on the thick upper portion. The Mace also featured the use of copper that was prominent in Northwest Coast native art. This copper trimming was designed and prepared by Bill Reid. Norris completed the Mace in 1959 and it was first used at the Fall Congregation where the Director of Ceremonies, Malcolm McGregor, carried it for the first time.

Today the Mace is carried by the 'Macebearer' who leads the Platform Party, which includes the Chancellor, the President, and other dignitaries, onto the stage for the Congregation ceremonies.

THE PROCESSION

Chancellor Lindsay Gordon shakes the hand of every student that crosses the stage—that's over 10,000 students each year. This handshake signifies the transition between student and graduate.

REGALIA COLOURS

The hoods, gowns and hats worn by graduates are lined with colours to indicate the degree to be conferred, a tradition dating back to the Middle Ages when the first universities were founded.

YOUR LEGACY GROWS

Since 1919, the graduating class has held a Tree Planting Ceremony on Campus to serve as a reminder of the class in years to come. Many of the trees along East Mall were planted by a graduating class.

The 2015 Grad Class tree is a Zelkova located at the corner of East Mall and Marine Drive.

Graduation day is a triumphant and joyous occasion for any student who accepts the challenges of a university education, and perhaps even more so for those who have chosen to pursue their academic interests at one of the world's most distinguished institutions.

It is also a profoundly defining moment, for the transformation from UBC student to UBC graduate is one that will speak compellingly about you for the remainder of your lives.

After all, you didn't just study hard and make good grades. You also had to learn some practical life skills and to be a problem solver, which is a talent you will find increasingly essential as you navigate the often uncertain pathways that lay ahead.

In getting to this stage of your journey, you invariably had to overcome logistical challenges of one sort or another: finding suitable accommodation and modes of transportation; managing money and time; perhaps holding down a part-time job; engaging in experiential education opportunities; making good decisions about course selection, not to mention the necessity of staying physically active and allowing time to have a bit of fun. Along the way, you may have found it difficult to be separated from your families, or to say goodbye to old friends and find new ones in what may have at first appeared to be an overwhelming environment. Chances are you had moments of doubt and perhaps genuine anxiety.

Irrespective of what kinds of challenges and obstacles you overcame, rest assured that they were part of an incredibly valuable educational experience, and are therefore very much a part of the triumph and transformation that we celebrate with you today. You may not yet be fully aware of the extent to which you have defined and differentiated your character, nor how well the combination of skills you have acquired will serve you in the years ahead. I encourage you to remind yourself frequently of how very much you have achieved during your time at UBC.

After all, putting your degree to work can be a daunting challenge, but whatever path you choose, ensure that you pursue your passion, whatever that may be. At the same time, remember to be flexible and open to new opportunities. Ultimately, success is not about how much money you make. First and foremost, it's about being happy with what you are doing and believing you are making a meaningful contribution to society, no matter how small or large. Continue to work hard, be persistent, be imaginative, learn from your mistakes, stay focused, stay healthy, and always make time for the things and people you love.

Finally, I encourage you to continue your life-long learning journey and to stay connected to your university as you join more than 300,000 alumni, with the added distinction of being among the first graduates of UBC's second century!

On behalf of UBC graduates throughout the world, I extend warmest congratulations and sincere best wishes.

— LINDSAY GORDON

My warmest congratulations to all the members of the Graduating Class of 2015!

You are members of a very select group: you are graduating during UBC's centennial year, a year in which we are celebrating a century of achievement by one of the world's best public universities.

The first graduating class of 1915-16 comprised only 40 people. Canada was at war, and many UBC students were away serving their country. The UBC campus in Fairview was little more than a collection of temporary buildings—the "Fairview shacks," as they were called. Many classes were given in church basements and professors' homes. Hardly an auspicious beginning for a university that Frank Wesbrook, our first President, hoped would turn into "the Cambridge of the Pacific."

Within ten years the picture was very different. By 1925 UBC had found its new and permanent home in Point Grey; the enrolment had jumped from 379 to almost 2000, and our alumni numbered 750, among them several Rhodes Scholars. What had made this growth possible?

In a word: our students. In 1922, faced with the impossibly crowded conditions at Fairview, and a government seemingly unwilling to act, the students organized a province-wide petition and a march out to Point Grey to pressure government to release the necessary funds needed to complete the building of the promised new campus. And they succeeded: within three years the move from Fairview to Point Grey was completed, thanks to the determination, skill, and organizational abilities of some very talented UBC students who, faced with a seemingly insurmountable problem, took matters into their own hands and made a huge difference.

Their initiative and decisive actions hold a lesson for you, their successors. In completing your degree programs, you have shown that, like the Great Trekkers, you have determination, you are goal-oriented, and you are problem-solvers. Now that you are about to enter a new stage in your life and experience, you can anticipate that there will be problems awaiting you; but be confident that you can and will make a difference, because you possess the knowledge and skills that are conferred by a good education.

At every level of your UBC education, you have been exposed to the rigours of critical thinking, to the complexities of problem-solving, and to the need for risk-taking and imagination in the creation of new ideas. Your studies have provided you with strong communication skills in a variety of media, and taught you the value of teamwork and collaboration. You have encountered people and ideas from a wide variety of backgrounds, in the process acquiring a new understanding of, and respect for, cultures and traditions that differ from your own.

As graduates of the University of British Columbia, you now have a unique opportunity to turn your hard-earned expertise and knowledge to good use, to become involved in your society, and to offer your ideas with the confidence that they will be heard and respected. People will look to you for solutions to the social, economic, and environmental problems that afflict us. Like the generations of UBC graduates who came before you, you will provide the leadership and vision that every society needs to prosper.

On these occasions I have always been moved and inspired by the optimism and idealism of our new graduates as they face the next stage of their lives in a world marked by uncertainty and change. Whatever the challenges that await you, I am confident that, as a member of the UBC Graduating Class of 2015, you have the potential, not only to achieve personal and professional success, but also to help move society towards the ideals of peace, justice, and prosperity for all.

The future is yours—Tuum est!

— MARTHA C. PIPER, O.C., O.B.C.

On behalf of the Musqueam Indian Band, the Musqueam Band Council welcomes the University of British Columbia's new Graduates, their families and friends to the 2015 Annual Fall Congregation.

We are pleased to honour the graduates and extend our congratulations to each and every one of you. We are especially pleased to extend our welcome and congratulations to the increasing number of First Nations students who visit the university, and our traditional lands, for their education.

The accomplishments and contributions of each individual student builds the foundation for their future as well as the future of the university and the larger community. These individual accomplishments reflect the talent and diversity among you. Today, the feeling of pride and accomplishment to accompany the completion of your course of study will add to each student's confidence in moving on to the next endeavour.

The University of British Columbia is situated within the heart of Musqueam Traditional Territory. These lands have always been a place for learning. In previous centuries, what is now the UBC campus was a centre for learning for Musqueam youth, who were instructed in culture, history, and tradition, and who in turn shared their knowledge with a new generation. Belief, knowledge, ritual, technological practices, were all handed down here from generation to generation —just as they are today to students from diverse communities and backgrounds.

Musqueam thanks the University of British Columbia and President Martha Piper for continuing to recognize these lands and the tradition of learning associated with them as an integral part of the history and well being of the Musqueam community. We also thank UBC for continuing to seek a partnership with Musqueam as co-host for special initiatives and ceremonies.

We are pleased that our lands continue to be a place for learning and sharing. We are supportive of the university's many programs and initiatives to form partnerships with the Musqueam and other First Nations communities. Education brings us all together, and each of the student's convocating today is an inspiration to us all.

It is our hope that after graduation you will continue contributing to the university, to our communities, to the well being of society and in doing so you will bring about positive change.

Congratulations to all University of British Columbia 2015 Graduates. We wish you further success for your future.

Honorary degrees are conferred on deserving individuals who have made substantial contributions to society.

They are individuals such as:

- Leading academics in all disciplines and creative minds in arts and performance;
- Public intellectuals and opinion makers;
- Visionary leaders and exemplary public figures;
- Community builders and philanthropists.

Honorary degrees are conferred honoris causa, "for the sake of honour," and are awarded as one of three types:

Doctor of Laws, honoris causa;
Doctor of Letters, honoris causa; and
Doctor of Science, honoris causa.

Marangu Njogu

Marangu Njogu is executive director of Windle Trust Kenya and a visionary leader in the development of refugee education programs from primary levels through to university in Dadaab, Kenya, including a teacher education program for secondary school teachers in the Dadaab settlement and surrounding region. Under his leadership, UBC has become a partner within a consortium of universities committed to peace building, youth development and community engagement in one of the world's largest marginalized communities.

Hugh Possingham

Hugh Possingham is currently the Vice Chancellor's Senior Research Fellow, Professor of Mathematics and Professor of Ecology at the University of Queensland. He is renowned as a scientist who has helped to establish conservation ecology firmly within the realm of science and for leading the application of the resulting science to the development of sound conservation principles worldwide. His work has underpinned the rezoning of the Great Barrier Reef Marine Park, the largest systematically designed reserve network in the world.

Susan Solomon

Susan Solomon is the Ellen Swallow Richards Professor of Atmospheric Chemistry and Climate Science at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and she is widely recognized as one of the leaders in the field of atmospheric science. Her scientific papers have provided not only key measurements, but also theoretical understanding regarding ozone destruction, and in particular the role of surface chemistry. Dr. Solomon is a member of the U.S. National Academy of Sciences, the European Academy of Sciences, and the French Academy of Sciences.

Rachel Thibeault, OC

Rachel Thibeault is a Professor in the School of Rehabilitation Sciences at the University of Ottawa, specializing in community-based rehabilitation, psychosocial care, and issues of social justice in health care. She has worked for over three decades with groups that face overwhelming stigma, including victims of war in Sierra Leone, persons with AIDS in Zambia, leprosy in Ethiopia, and disability in Nicaragua. Dr. Thibeault is also an academic leader in the occupational therapy and occupational science discipline and a key influencer within the realms of global health and human rights policy.

TUUM EST - IT IS YOURS

UBC's 21-member Board of Governors comprises the chancellor, the president, eleven persons appointed by the lieutenant-governor, three faculty members elected by faculty, three full-time students elected by students and two people elected by and from the full-time employees of the university who are not faculty members.

By legislation, the board is responsible for the management, administration and control of the property, revenue, business and affairs of the university including the appointment of senior officials and faculty on the recommendation of the president. The governors represent diverse backgrounds, which provide valuable input during board deliberations.

O CANADA

O Canada

Our home and native land!

True patriot love in all thy sons command.

With glowing hearts we see thee rise,

The True North strong and free!

From far and wide,

O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.

God keep our land glorious and free!

O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.

O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.

ALUMNI WELCOME

Welcome, Class of 2015! Today we celebrate all you have achieved and contributed to the UBC community during your time as a student—and the promise of your future.

Welcome to your new and honoured place among more than 305,000 UBC alumni in 120 countries. This is a powerful network you can leverage to build your life and make a real difference in the world.

When you graduate from UBC, you automatically become a member of alumni UBC and your relationship with the University enters a whole new phase.

You might be surprised at just who your fellow alumni are, and their levels of accomplishment, influence and contribution to society. No matter where you go, you will find yourself in the company of amazing people who are making a positive impact on the world—educators, artists, doctors, nurses, business and community leaders—UBC grads who will be your role models, mentors, colleagues and friends.

We help you connect through our updates, web pages and social networks. You will receive a warm welcome at mentoring, cultural, educational and career-building programs, whether you stay here or go across the world. You can get involved in alumni networks as far away as London, Hong Kong and Seoul or as close as Victoria, Calgary and Toronto.

On the Vancouver campus, the new Robert H. Lee Alumni Centre is now open. The first of its kind in Canada, the alumni centre is your permanent place for making alumni connections, collaborations and for life-long learning. This is your home for life—so be the first to see it up and running today.

You are in the unique position of graduating in our Centennial year, which culminates next May. It is full of opportunities for you to stay involved with UBC. In the Okanagan, we are celebrating our 10th anniversary too, so it's doubly special!

Together, UBC alumni represent a significant and positive force. Remember our motto: Tuum Est (it's yours). UBC is still yours. It will always be yours. Reach out to us. Stay in touch. Ask for help when you need it. Lend a hand when you can.

To learn more about your membership of alumni UBC drop in to the Robert H. Lee Alumni Centre or visit alumni.ubc.ca.

With my best wishes for the future,

— JEFF TODD
