Dear Graduand,

Your graduation began long before this day.

It began when you made the choice to study that extra hour, dedicate yourself more deeply, and strive to reach for the degree you had chosen to fully commit your life to pursuing.

Many of the people that helped you arrive here today are seated beside you—friends, family, classmates—while others are thinking of you from afar.

We are honoured to have given you a place to discover, inspire others and be challenged beyond what you thought was possible.

We hope you know, we will always be that place for you.

Yours,

UBC

The UBC graduation journey has been forged by the spirit of the university's motto, Tuum Est, (meaning 'it is yours') since 1915. Today, you, the graduating class of 2015, now shape UBC's history by making it your own.

1916

One of the first graduating classes was the Arts Class of 1916 pictured here at a party at the home of Mary Wilons. In UBC's first year, there were only three faculties: Arts, Applied Science and Agriculture with 379 registered students and 34 faculty members.

1920s

The twenties saw the student-led Great Trek to claim UBC's Point Grey campus and establish the university as a place of mind for students the world over. The AMS incorporated as a non-profit society and the university began awarding its first graduate degrees to students. In the Ubysey, published in September 23, 1925, students described the new campus with a sense of wonder: "We are dazed with the appearance of architectural cleanliness and bewildered by our lineal freedom."

1940s

The forties were an era of tremendous change at the university as both students and faculty embraced the war effort. In 1943, new President Norman Mackenzie began in earnest to expand the university and new departments were formed along with new buildings to house them including Brock Hall, the first student union building. By the 1950's, UBC had established itself as a comprehensive university and top choice for students in BC and beyond.

1960s

Student numbers continued to escalate alongside the scholarly activities that began to define UBC as a leader in research. The campus was alive with sixties counterculture and a sixth president of UBC was elected by the name of Dr. Walter Gage. New student residences were created to respond to the expanding student body as well as a new student union building. Students gain influence at the university and are elected to the University Board of Governors for the first time.

1980s

With over 34,000 students registered at the beginning of the eighties, UBC began attracting scholars from all over the world. Engineering students were in the news frequently for their pranks, which included the famous Ladner Clock Tower stunt in which students pulled off hoisting a white Volkswagen Bug onto the top of the tower. Dr. Martha Piper was elected President in 1997 and ushered in an era of international engagement that saw UBC step onto the world stage as an educator and global centre for research excellence.

2015

Close to 13,000 students will become the Class of 2015. They will go on to join the over 300,000 alumni who have successfully graduated from UBC and continue their journey as treasured members of the UBC community.

The University Mace is a symbol of the authority of the Chancellor. It is displayed on ceremonial occasions, most notably during the congregation ceremonies but also during the Installation of a President or Chancellor.

THE UNIVERSITY MACE

In the fall of 1957, the University commissioned Haida carver Bill Reid to undertake the project. Owing to Reid's heavy workload, he suggested that George Norris be asked to help design and carve the Mace. The planning of the Mace took some time and a final design was not approved until 1959.

Norris carved the Mace from a block of yew and it included a stylized thunderbird on the thick upper portion. The Mace also featured the use of copper that was prominent in Northwest Coast native art. This copper trimming was designed and prepared by Bill Reid. Norris completed the Mace in 1959 and it was first used at the Fall Congregation where the Director of Ceremonies, Malcolm McGregor, carried it for the first time.

Today the Mace is carried by the 'Macebearer' who leads the Platform Party, which includes the Chancellor, the President, and other dignitaries, onto the stage for the Congregation ceremonies.

THE PROCESSION

Chancellor Lindsay Gordon shakes the hand of every student that crosses the stage—that's over 10,000 students each year. This handshake signifies the transition between student and graduate.

REGALIA COLOURS

The hoods, gowns and hats worn by graduates are lined with colours to indicate the degree to be conferred, a tradition dating back to the Middle Ages when the first universities were founded.

YOUR LEGACY GROWS

Since 1919, the graduating class has held a Tree Planting Ceremony on Campus to serve as a reminder of the class in years to come. Many of the trees along East Mall were planted by a graduating class.

The 2015 Grad Class tree is a Zelkova located at the corner of East Mall and Marine Drive.

Not only have you successfully completed degree requirements at one of the world's finest universities, you have the added distinction of being alumni of a 100 year-old institution.

On behalf of the 300,000 alumni of the University of British Columbia, I am honoured to extend my sincere congratulations to all graduating students, and to welcome all of those who have supported you on what I hope has been an enjoyable and transformational journey.

It may be an obvious statement, but it merits repeating—today is a day for great celebration. Not only have you successfully completed degree requirements at one of the world's finest universities, you have the added distinction of being alumni of a 100 year-old institution.

For most students, there have been some trying times along the way; term paper and assignment deadlines, adjusting to new living arrangements in a new city or an entirely new part of the world, financial strains, and maybe even some anxiety over what happens next. But you made it, and that alone speaks compellingly about your character; that you are disciplined, resourceful and able to begin and complete a challenging task. As a UBC graduate, you are now different in the eyes of a great many of those whom you will meet.

As to what happens next, the way forward for some of you is clear, while for others the future remains uncertain. Irrespective of what faculty or program from which you are graduating today, take heart in knowing that the ever-widening spectrum of human endeavour in the 21st century requires a correspondingly expanding range of abilities. In an increasingly complex world, good thinkers, innovators, problem solvers and effective communicators from diverse backgrounds are essential for the progress of our society.

Compelling evidence of widening skills needs can be found among your fellow graduates who live and work in some 150 countries. Every department or program at UBC has produced graduates who are today net contributors to an infinite range of endeavours. Remember too that if you could see into your future, you might well be astonished by the unexpected, and hopefully intriguing, roads you will take on the next phase of your journey. In the meantime, rest assured that, through your accomplishments at UBC, you have already made a powerful statement about your character.

With that in mind, I encourage you to reflect on what you overcame to arrive at this momentous juncture, and celebrate with great enthusiasm your new distinction as a graduate of the University of British Columbia.

One final thought. Graduation should never mean goodbye—learning is a life long journey. I sincerely hope that you will remain active Alumni of UBC and that many of you will join us for your university's 100th anniversary celebrations this September which will include the grand opening of the new Robert H. Lee Alumni Centre.

— LINDSAY GORDON

Warmest congratulations! Graduation is a momentous day in your life. It is a time to look back at all you've accomplished and a time to look ahead to what's next.

This fall marks the 100th anniversary of UBC's first class. It's difficult to imagine switching places with a member of that first class in 1915. They certainly weren't updating Facebook and Instagram or thinking about how they would get ahead in the fiercely competitive global job market.

Indeed the class of 1916 was graduating in a very different time. That year women were given the right to vote in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba. Young Canadian men continued to fight overseas in "The Great War" which we now refer to as World War I. There was considerable public debate about conscription and whether young men should have the right to refuse to engage in combat.

But there are also many similarities. Like those UBC alumni, you are probably more preoccupied with the future than you are on the moment. You might be wondering how you will contribute to solving the challenges faced by your generation, from climate change to economic disparity, even while you wonder about your own road ahead. But to truly see down that road, I think it helps to understand where we've come from. So let's look back and see how far we've come.

Looking back to 1916, it's clear how much smart, engaged young people like yourselves have changed this country and made it a better place for each generation that has followed and how your university has changed from a small, provincial university to a global research and innovation powerhouse with a community of over 300,000 alumni from 150 countries around the world. And more immediately, think about how much you've changed in your time at UBC. Think about the people you've met, the discussions you've had, the ideas you've discovered, and the contributions you've made. Taken together these experiences have shaped you in ways that you may only discover over a lifetime.

In his address to UBC's initial graduating class in 1916, UBC's first President Frank Wesbrook encouraged students to make our province, our dominion, our empire and our world a better place in which to live.

I believe each of you has the capacity and skill to succeed and make our world a better place. As you celebrate this transformational day with your family and friends, take a minute to reflect and think forward to the many ways you might help shape the world in the years ahead.

— ARVIND GUPTA

On behalf of the Musqueam Indian Band, the Musqueam Band Council welcomes the University of British Columbia's new Graduates, their families and friends to the 2015 Annual Spring Congregation.

We are pleased to honour the graduates and extend our congratulations to each and every one of you. We are especially pleased to extend our welcome and congratulations to the increasing number of First Nations students who visit the university, and our traditional lands, for their education.

The accomplishments and contributions of each individual student builds the foundation for their future as well as the future of the university and the larger community. These individual accomplishments reflect the talent and diversity among you. Today, the feeling of pride and accomplishment to accompany the completion of your course of study will add to each student's confidence in moving on to the next endeavour.

The University of British Columbia is situated within the heart of Musqueam Traditional Territory. These lands have always been a place for learning. In previous centuries, what is now the UBC campus was a centre for learning for Musqueam youth, who were instructed in culture, history, and tradition, and who in turn shared their knowledge with a new generation. Belief, knowledge, ritual, technological practices, were all handed down here from generation to generation — just as they are today to students from diverse communities and backgrounds.

Musqueam thanks the University of British Columbia and President Arvind Gupta for continuing to recognize these lands and the tradition of learning associated with them as an integral part of the history and well being of the Musqueam community. We also thank UBC for continuing to seek a partnership with Musqueam as co-host for special initiatives and ceremonies.

We are pleased that our lands continue to be a place for learning and sharing. We are supportive of the university's many programs and initiatives to form partnerships with the Musqueam and other First Nations communities. Education brings us all together, and each of the student's convocating today is an inspiration to us all.

It is our hope that after graduation you will continue contributing to the university, to our communities, to the well being of society and in doing so you will bring about positive change.

Congratulations to all University of British Columbia 2015 Graduates. We wish you further success for your future.

STEPS FORWARD

“STEPS” Forward supports young adults with intellectual disabilities in auditing courses and participating in campus activities at colleges and universities in British Columbia. Over a 4-5 year period these young adults are supported in the educational, athletic, social and other life-defining challenges of student life in the same post-secondary environment as their non-disabled peers.

ALUMNI WELCOME

Welcome, Class of 2015! Today we celebrate all you have achieved and contributed to the UBC community during your time as a student—and the promise of your future. Welcome to your new and honoured place among more than 300,000 UBC alumni in 120 countries. That's a powerful network you can leverage to build your life and make a real difference to the world.

Many students don't realize that when you graduate from UBC, you automatically become a member of alumni UBC and your relationship with the University enters a whole new phase.

You might be surprised at just who your fellow alumni are, and their levels of accomplishment, influence and contribution to society. No matter where you go, you will find yourself in the company of amazing people who are making a real difference in the world—educators, artists, doctors, nurses, business and community leaders—UBC grads who will be your role models, mentors, colleagues and friends.

We'll help you connect through our updates, web pages and social networks. You will receive a warm welcome at mentoring, cultural, educational and career-building programs, whether you stay here or go across the world. You can get involved in alumni networks as far away as London, Hong Kong and Seoul or as close as Victoria, Calgary and Toronto.

On the Vancouver campus, the new Robert H. Lee Alumni Centre is now open. The first of its kind in Canada, the Alumni Centre is your permanent place for making alumni connections, collaborations and for life-long learning. This is your home for life—so be the first to see it up and running today.

You can also get involved with our start an evolution alumni engagement campaign. This can be as simple as volunteering at UBC, or as generous as you or your family making a donation. Go to startanevolution.ca to find out more.

UBC's upcoming Centennial year, running from September 2015 to May 2016, will be full of opportunities for you to stay involved with UBC. In the Okanagan, we are celebrating our 10th anniversary too, so it's doubly special!

Together, UBC alumni represent a significant and positive force. Remember our motto: Tuum Est (it's yours). UBC is still yours. It will always be yours. So reach out. Stay in touch. Ask for help when you need it. Lend a hand when you can.

To learn more about your membership of alumni UBC drop in to the Robert. H. Lee Alumni Centre or visit alumni.ubc.ca.

With my best wishes for the future,

— JEFF TODD
