In its earliest days, UBC students celebrated graduation in small, but intimate gatherings most notably at the University's first Congregation where only 40 students celebrated with their families at the Hotel Vancouver in spring of 1916. As the University grew, so did graduation. By mid-century, the Armoury, followed by the War Memorial gym, welcomed graduands and their families by the thousands. When the Chan Centre for the Performing Arts was built in 1997, graduation ceremonies moved into the stunning concert hall, where graduands and their families have celebrated ever since.

Dear Graduand,

Your graduation began long before this day.

It began when you made the choice to study that extra hour, dedicate yourself more deeply, and strive to reach for the degree you had chosen to fully commit your life to pursuing.

Many of the people that helped you arrive here today are seated beside you—friends, family, classmates—while others are thinking of you from afar.

We are honoured to have given you a place to discover, inspire others and be challenged beyond what you thought was possible.

We hope you know, we will always be that place for you.

Yours,

UBC

In UBC's first annual, published 100 years ago in 1916, President Frank F. Wesbrook wrote: "Ours is the task of helping to adjust the rights of the individual to the needs of all, of the obligations of each to the other and to the world. Today's chosen people are those in training for such tasks. A glorious heritage is ours."

Wesbrook's aspiration for UBC students is surprisingly still relevant. Our learning environment encourages global citizenship and it is our hope that the graduands of today, having made UBC 'theirs', go on to use their education to change the world for the better.

UBC graduands have, with the support of classmates, family and friends, collectively built our shared heritage since 1916. We hope you know how proud we are of your contribution to what we've become, and who we will be, for the next 100 years.

“As we move into our second century, please stay in touch. Which ever path you choose to follow, you will always be welcome at UBC, and we hope that you will continue to play a part in the life of this great university. Tuum est! It is yours!”

MARTHA C. PIPER, OC OBC LLD'07
PRESIDENT AND VICE-CHANCELLOR

1916

One of the first graduating classes was the Arts Class of 1916 pictured here at a party at the home of Mary Wilons. In UBC's first year, there were only three faculties: Arts, Applied Science and Agriculture with 379 registered students and 34 faculty members.

1920s

The student-led Great Trek to UBC's Point Grey established the university's first campus. The AMS incorporated as a non-profit society and the university began awarding its first graduate degrees to students. In the Ubyyssey, published in September 23, 1925, students described the new campus with a sense of wonder: "We are dazed with the appearance of architectural cleanliness and bewildered by our lineal freedom."

1940s

The forties were an era of tremendous change at the university as both students and faculty embraced the war effort. In 1943, new President Norman MacKenzie began in earnest to expand the university and new departments were formed along with new buildings to house them including Brock Hall and the first student union building. By the 1950s, UBC had established itself as a comprehensive university and top choice for students in BC and beyond.

1960s

Student numbers continued to escalate alongside the scholarly activities that began to define UBC as a leader in research. The campus was alive with sixties counterculture and a sixth president of UBC was elected by the name of Dr. Walter Gage. New student residences were created to respond to the expanding student body as well as a new student union building. Students gained influence at the university and were elected to the University Board of Governors for the first time.

1980s

With over 34,000 students registered at the beginning of the eighties, UBC began attracting scholars from all over the world. Engineering students were in the news frequently for their pranks, which included the famous Ladner Clock Tower stunt in which students pulled off hoisting a white Volkswagen Bug onto the top of the tower. Dr. Martha Piper was elected President in 1997 and ushered in an era of international engagement that saw UBC step onto the world stage as an educator and global centre for research excellence.

Close to 13,000 students will become the Class of 2016. They will go on to join the over 310,000 alumni who have successfully graduated from UBC and continue their journey as treasured members of the UBC community.

The University Mace is a symbol of the authority of the Chancellor. It is displayed on ceremonial occasions, most notably during the congregation ceremonies but also during the Installation of a President or Chancellor.

THE UNIVERSITY MACE

In the fall of 1957, the University commissioned Haida carver Bill Reid to undertake the project. Owing to Reid's heavy workload, he suggested that George Norris be asked to help design and carve the Mace. The planning of the Mace took some time and a final design was not approved until 1959.

Norris carved the Mace from a block of yew and it included a stylized thunderbird on the thick upper portion. The Mace also featured the use of copper that was prominent in Northwest Coast native art. This copper trimming was designed and prepared by Bill Reid. Norris completed the Mace in 1959 and it was first used at the Fall Congregation where the Director of Ceremonies, Malcolm McGregor, carried it for the first time.

Today the Mace is carried by the 'Macebearer' who leads the Platform Party, which includes the Chancellor, the President, and other dignitaries, onto the stage for the Congregation ceremonies.

THE PROCESSION

Chancellor Lindsay Gordon shakes the hand of every student that crosses the stage—that's over 10,000 students each year. This handshake signifies the transition between student and graduate.

REGALIA COLOURS

The hoods, gowns and hats worn by graduates are lined with colours to indicate the degree to be conferred, a tradition dating back to the Middle Ages when the first universities were founded.

GRAD CLASS LEGACY

UBC students have created a rich legacy of gifts and donations to the UBC Vancouver campus.

Since 1919, the graduating class has held a Tree Planting Ceremony on campus.

The 2016 Grad Class tree is a London Plane Tree (Platanus acerifolia), located at the Northwest corner of East Mall and University Boulevard.

The tradition of the Grad Class Gift to the University began in 1926 with the presentation of a trophy case designed to house athletic and literary awards. Since that time, each successive graduating class has chosen a gift or series of gifts to enhance the campus.

The 2016 Grad Class is donating just over $20,000 toward the design and installation of an outdoor, three-dimensional sign for the AMS Student Nest. The sign will be housed on the knoll and stand as a point of welcome for the thousands of students, staff, faculty, alumni, and visitors who regularly visit the building.

Here it is at last—your graduation day, and with the added distinction of it occurring at a historic milestone for your university.

Exactly 100 years ago UBC held its first Congregation ceremony, at which it granted degrees to the first 40 graduates.

They graduated during a turbulent time in human history with a terrible war raging, but our challenges are no less significant: climate change, human rights, a mounting refugee crisis, inequality, poverty, food security...and yes...conflict, but a very different kind of conflict to that experienced by our first graduation class.

You therefore may share similar hopes and fears of members of the Class of 1916. Like them, you too are probably preoccupied with the future.

Had I been Chancellor back in 1916 my message to those 40 graduates would be the same that I offer to the graduates of today: Irrespective of what pursuits you undertake, ensure they are activities in which you can maintain a passionate interest. At the same time, however, remain sharply aware of the inevitable and perpetual changes in the world around you, and in yourselves.

That does not mean that circumstances have not changed in the past century. The spectrum of knowledge and influencers of change—social, cultural, economic and technological—are as complex as ever, meaning that you will invariably encounter new circumstances, and you may well be tempted to pursue an entirely new direction and destiny tomorrow than those you may be contemplating today. The message is simply this: remain curious, open-minded and flexible as the journey unfolds.

At the same time, ensure that you play your part in helping to build a diverse, inclusive and better community. Understand the obligations that we make to one another in a civilized society, and not only to our neighbours at home but to strangers from afar. Above all, seek truth and compassion over bitter opinion and misplaced fear.

One final thought—graduation should never mean goodbye. As UBC alumni, I sincerely hope you will remain connected in some way to your university. Please take advantage of the many opportunities to be active and engaged members of our alumni community, which has grown from those 40 inaugural graduates of 1916, to over 310,000 today.

On behalf of all of them, I extend my very best wishes and warmest congratulations.

— LINDSAY GORDON, BA'73, MBA'76

My warmest congratulations to the Graduating Class of 2016!

You are members of a very special class: you are graduating exactly 100 years after UBC's first degree ceremony, held downtown at the Hotel Vancouver and presided over by UBC's first President, Dr. Frank Wesbrook.

The first graduating class of 1915-16 comprised only 40 people. Canada was at war, and many UBC students were away serving their country. The UBC campus in Fairview was little more than a collection of temporary buildings—the "Fairview shacks," as they were called. Many classes were given in church basements and professors' homes. Hardly an auspicious beginning for a university that President Wesbrook hoped would turn into "the Cambridge of the Pacific."

I wonder what he would think about the changes that have occurred over the past century. He could not possibly have foreseen that his university would grow from a student body of less than 400 to one that now exceeds 60,000; that the number of living alumni would be 310,000 and counting; that UBC would produce some of Canada's top scientists and scholars, writers and artists, public servants—including three prime ministers of Canada—and leaders in every profession.

What President Wesbrook did recognize, however, was that with the birth of his tiny university in a remote province on Canada's distant west coast, something significant had taken place: something with enormous promise. In the student yearbook for 1916, he wrote: "To us has come the opportunity of making our Province, our Dominion, our Empire, and our world, a better place in which to live."

The world has changed in many ways since Dr. Wesbrook penned those words. Canada is no longer a dominion, nor part of an empire. But his vision of UBC's role, his belief in its potential greatness and the importance of its future contributions—those have been amply justified. UBC is indeed a great university, in size, in achievement, in the significant role it has played and continues to play on the national and the international scene as a major centre of learning and research.

As graduates of UBC, you have benefited from guidance and instruction by some of the best scholars and teachers in this country, and enjoyed the kind of social, academic, and sporting opportunities that only a great university can provide. At every level of your UBC education, you have been exposed to the rigours of critical thinking, to the complexities of problem-solving, and to the need for risk-taking and imagination in the creation of new ideas. Your studies have provided you with strong communication skills in a variety of media, and taught you the value of teamwork and collaboration.

Now it is time to turn your hard-earned expertise and knowledge to good use, to become involved with your society, and to offer your ideas with the confidence that you will be heard and respected. People will look to you for solutions to the social, economic, and environmental problems that afflict us. Like the generations of UBC graduates who came before you, you will provide the leadership and vision that every society needs to prosper.

As we move into our second century, please stay in touch. Whichever path you choose to follow, you will always be welcome at UBC, and we hope that you will continue to play a part in the life of this great university through membership in alumni UBC. Tuum est! It is yours!

O CANADA

O Canada

Our home and native land!

True patriot love in all thy sons command.

With glowing hearts we see thee rise,

The True North strong and free!

From far and wide,

O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.

God keep our land glorious and free!

O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.

O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.

HAIL UBC

Hail! to the Thunderbirds,

Hail! UBC,

Thunder and Lightning,

Onward to victory!

Hail! to the blue and gold,

Hail! UBC,

UBC forever!

Onward to victory!

— Words and Music by Prof. Stephen Chatman (2009)

That UBC has a pep song — let alone a newly composed one — may prompt some surprise, as university pep songs are rare in Canada. Originally written in 1931 by Arts student, trumpet player, and band leader Harold King, Hail UBC was widely performed at athletic events for decades. In 2007, Professor Stephen Chatman was charged with composing an updated version suitable not only as a pep song, but also a celebratory anthem for ceremonies and other campus events. It is played at the end of every graduation ceremony as the procession exits. Though the new Hail UBC retains only the title of the original 1931 version, it is a throwback to the pomp and bluster of the early 1900s, when such pep songs were in their heyday, and promises to give UBC students something to cheer along with for another hundred years!

STEPS FORWARD

“STEPS” Forward supports young adults with intellectual disabilities in auditing courses and participating in campus activities at colleges and universities in British Columbia.

Over a 4-5 year period these young adults are supported in the educational, athletic, social and other life-defining challenges of student life in the same post-secondary environment as their non-disabled peers.

Welcome, Centennial Class of 2016, to your new and honoured place among more than 310,000 UBC alumni in 140 countries. That's a powerful network you can leverage to build your life and make a real difference.

Many students don't realize that when you graduate from UBC, you automatically become a member of alumni UBC and your relationship with the University enters a whole new phase.

You might be surprised at just who your fellow alumni are, and their levels of accomplishment, influence and contribution to society. No matter where you go, you will find yourself in the company of amazing people who are making a real difference in the world—educators, artists, doctors, nurses, business and community leaders—UBC grads who will be your role models, mentors, colleagues and friends.

alumni UBC will help you connect through our email updates, website and social networks. You can participate in our mentoring, cultural, education and career-building programs, here in Vancouver and around the world through alumni networks as far away as London, Hong Kong and Seoul or as close as Victoria, Calgary and Toronto.

On the Vancouver campus, the Robert H. Lee Alumni Centre is your alumni home for life, where you will always be welcome to make alumni connections, attend events, or book your own meetings or celebrations. After the ceremony today, be sure to come celebrate with your friends and family at the Alumni Welcome Reception hosted at the Robert H. Lee Alumni Centre. You can pick up your free alumni UBC A-Card and find yourself on the Interactive UBC Alumni Wall too.

Remember our motto: Tuum Est (it is yours). UBC is still yours. It will always be yours. So reach out. Stay in touch. Ask for help when you need it. Lend a hand when you can. To learn more, visit alumni.ubc.ca.

Best wishes for the future,
